The Brookstreet Hotel opens its doors
Visitors to Ottawa's only corporate boutique hotel can work, play, getaway

Ottawa, June 1, 2003 – Starting today, Ottawa visitors and residents can step into a distinctive and fresh hotel experience like no other. The Brookstreet Hotel, the region's only pre-eminent boutique hotel, meeting place and resort, has opened its doors.

Located in the heart of the Kanata Research Park, and connected to The Marshes Golf Club, the Brookstreet Hotel is the place to work, play and getaway in Ottawa.

For business guests, state-of-the-art rooms offer wireless Internet access and work accommodations. For conference and special events organizers, the Brookstreet Hotel offers up to 16,000 square feet of modern and elegant meeting or event space. For out-of-town golf enthusiasts or visitors, the resort hotel presents Perspectives, a world-class restaurant; Au Naturel, a health and wellness spa; two swimming pools; and, The Marshes, the golf course designed by the world-renowned Robert Trent Jones II.

“Our vision of building a one-of-a-kind upscale resort hotel in Ottawa has become reality,” said Patrice S. Basille, President. “Visitors and Ottawa residents have never experienced the fine amenities and impeccable service we offer here. Resorts such as these are what world-class cities are made of.”

In addition to providing a unique hotel experience to all its clients, the Brookstreet Hotel intends to be an active player in the Ottawa community. From showcasing the works of Canterbury High School students on its walls, to serving the freshest foods from the Ottawa Valley, the Brookstreet Hotel is committed to being involved.

The Brookstreet Hotel's Grand Opening event will take place June 18th in the hotel's ballroom. The guest list is a veritable who's who of the Ottawa high tech, business and government scenes. Members of the community are invited to join the festivities of light and magic at 10:00pm that night, by viewing the outstanding fireworks display above the Marshes golf course.
